PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Aloysius Stanislaus Travers, who had a one-day career as a major league pitcher and gave up 24 runs that still stand as a record, died Sunday at age 75. When the Detroit Tigers walked off the field after a dispute in a game with Philadelphia in Shibe Park in 1912, Father Travers, then assistant manager at St. Joseph's College, recruited a group of sandlot players to face the Athletics. The A's scored 24 runs on 25 hits off Father Travers.

AVENUE B from Page One

If there was any possible way the work could be carried on during the winter. The engineers explained that satisfactory work could not be performed in this type of soil while it is wet and muddy.

The contractor was plagued with bad weather almost from the beginning of the job last spring but some of the delay that prevented him from completing the work on schedule was the replacement of water and sewer lines that had not been planned originally. His contract covered replacing some sewer lines and lowering some water lines. After this part of his job had been completed, it was discovered that there were some additional sewer lines in bad condition that would have to be replaced before an expensive street was built over them. This additional sewer work took 5 weeks time and ran the job into fall and winter rains which stopped the work.

The Mayor says that the delay has caused all kind of rumors, among them that the contractor had gone broke and the job could not be finished. He said that none of this was true, but that, in any event, the contractor was bonded for the full amount of the contract and the work would have been completed anyway. He said that the City Directors realized that this has been a terrible inconvenience to everyone and that it was natural for people to be upset and many rumors started about what is happening. The contractor and the City Street Department have tried to keep some available routes open so that people could get to and from their homes and places of business. Except for damage caused by heavy loads on the by-pass routes, for the most part they have been maintained so that traffic could move. He said that while there has been a lot of inconvenience, that the patience and understanding of a great number of people in this area has been most comforting.

Purcell Will Run for the Same Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell halted any speculation Monday that he would run for governor by announcing he would seek re-election.

Purcell would not say whether he had seriously considered running for governor but said that "nobody's presence in the governor's race had any influence over my decision."

Purcell said that he had every intention of seeking a second term when he was elected in 1966.

"I have not changed my mind in this respect and I am now formally announcing that I will be a candidate for re-election," he said. "In the election of 1966, I ran on a promise, in the elections of 1968, I shall run on my record."

Purcell said the Democratic candidates would draw his support in November.

Pickets Out in 3 More State Cities

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Picket lines went up Monday at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., buildings in three more Arkansas cities—Searcy, Rogers and McGehee — as the nationwide strike against the Bell System continued.

Pickets are still up at Little Rock, Conway, Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Hot Springs, Camden, Pine Bluff, Forrest City, Jonesboro and El Dorado.

The picket lines are affecting 1,000 Bell System employees according to a spokesman.

GREENWOOD, Ark. (AP) — The killer tornado which struck this Western Arkansas town Friday has caused Sebastian County to be declared a disaster area by the Small Business Administration.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., made the announcement Monday in Washington. Applications for disaster loans will be accepted both at Little Rock and Greenwood.

The tornado, which caused more than $1.5 million in damages, claimed its 14th victim Monday when Mrs. Elador Floyd, 63, died at a Fort Smith hospital.

The tornado destroyed most of the city's business district and injured hundreds of persons.

State Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said Monday he had made $1,000 in emergency financial assistance available to the storm victims.

1935, when she lost both her mother and her husband, George Booth, a petroleum engineer. Childless, she dwells alone now in a flat near Piccadilly Circus, the Times Square of London.

Here is her philosophy: "I never pined for roles I never got. That's why I'm looking so well. There's nothing eating at me. It's very aging to go through life carrying a burden, and thinking you should have done something you didn't."

"I'm a great admirer of living — not grumbling. I think that grumbling brings nasty things into your life. One of the ways not to look your age is not to grumble or overeat or over-drink."

"When I go for a walk, I feel I should pay for the privilege of it. I believe gratitude is a very creative virtue. The more things you are grateful for, the more you'll find worth your gratitude."

Then, with a crisp but kindly smile of dismissal, she rose and said:

"I don't really know me. We never really know ourselves. But I really have nothing else to say now. I think you've torn me limb from limb."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HOW TO MAKE ENEMIES AND ALIENATE MOTHERS-IN-LAW Dear Helen: My boyfriend, who has not been back to my house since I told his mother what I thought about her "indecent exposure."

It happened one night when my boyfriend and I went to his house unexpectedly. Helen, you wouldn't believe this, but out from the bath came his mother with nothing on but a very small towel, right in front of her husband and 19-year-old son! My eyeballs nearly fell out of my head. So I told her I knew right from wrong and she should be ashamed of herself.

Do you think he should drop me, just because I said my intended mother-in-law shouldn't make a spectacle of herself? — PIXIE IN A FIX Dear Pixie: He's probably thinking — and rightly — how sharp your tongue could cut up a marriage. A sincere apology for your tactlessness might help. If you can't admit you were wrong, you're better off single. — H.

Dear Helen: Ever since the State put an added tax on cigarettes, my mother has been smoking cigars. At least that's her excuse, though they cost more.

This not only unladylike at home, but she smokes them in restaurants and at work. People laugh at her, and I am ashamed. How can I get rid of those smelly cigars? — W.S.N. Dear W: Why don't you start calling her "Dad"? — H.

Dear Helen: My father is a doctor and he should know better. But he still smokes about three packs of cigarettes a day. If anything happened to him I just couldn't take it. He's the most wonderful man in the world, and I want him to stay well. What can I do? — VERY WORRIED

Dear Worried: Tell your father, over and over again, just what you've written to me. Surely a "wonderful" man will make every effort not to worry his child, especially when the majority of his colleagues agree that she is right. — H.

Dear Helen: I am a guy of 18 and well liked by most people. Dating is no problem as I seem to attract girls, and they are pretty free with their ideas, etc. But now two of them tell me I have to marry them. I admit it's possible, but I know I'm not the only one. They said they wouldn't get pg.

Helen, this is no joke. What should I do? — TOO YOUNG TO BA A TWO-TIME FATHER Dear Two-timer: You should have stood — these easy gals off. However if you can prove they ARE easy, they'll have a hard time proving you are the father. Your parents had better consult a lawyer, and insist that you pay all fees, from your own earnings. And I hope they're steep! — H.

Dear Helen: We are seniors in high school. Our chemistry teacher is the problem. She is continually picking on us guys in class. We feel that the reason she is like this is because she is unmarried and doesn't date. She is not bad looking and has a good figure. Could you suggest a remedy? — TWO D's AND AN "F"

Dear Three: "The reason she is like this" may be your attitude toward chemistry, not your teacher's lack of it. But she MIGHT become more human if you'd act a bachelor teacher her way. Why don't you cook something up? — H.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You'll see longer programs on television next season and probably for many seasons to come.

That can be confirmed by a look at the 1968-69 schedule, which displays an increasing number of 90-minute, two-hour and—for feature movies—even longer formats.

The "long form" has been embraced by network programmers, especially those of NBC, which introduced the elongated show with Saturday Night at the Movies in 1961 and the 90-minute series with "The Virginian" in 1962.

Last week Don Durgin, president of the NBC television network, discussed on the "long form" before a meeting of the Hollywood Radio and Television Society. He pointed out that the 15-minute and half-hour shows, which abounded in early TV, were a hangover from radio programming.

He cited these figures: In the 1959-60 season there were 62 half-hour shows on the three networks. In the current season there were only 32.

Why the decline of the half-hour?

"Most informational and entertainment media through the centuries have employed a form longer than 30 minutes," Durgin said.

The same pattern of longer shows was established with motion pictures, which began as 90-second subjects in penny arcades. One-reel and two-reel films dominated the industry in its first decade, then the feature film was developed. During the 1930s and 1940s, 90 minutes was the normal length of a film; now movies average two hours and many run longer.

Durgin was bullish on feature movies as an audience-puller, and the network's attitude is demonstrated by its scheduling three movie nights for next season. He explained that the addition of a third movie night was possible because NBC bought large backlogs from Universal, United Artists, and other companies.

Such decisions have brought complaints from critics and labor unions that networks are abandoning their creative functions and eliminating jobs for movie workers—by devoting seven networks a week to old movies. But the viewers don't seem to be complaining. Ratings indicate that the home folks enjoy the diversity and superior entertainment of the movies.

Durgin held out high promise for the first regular news program in the "long form." Beginning next January, NBC will offer "First Tuesday," a two-hour news show from 9 to 11 p.m. EST on the first Tuesday of every month.

Said he: "First Tuesday" gives NBC News what every news organization wishes they could have—the ability to throw the clock away and let the story dictate the time to it, rather than the format."

Fire Delivered by Freight

ALLEGANY, N.Y. (AP) — Volunteer firemen didn't have to go to a fire here Monday—an Erie-Lackawanna Railroad crew delivered it by fast freight. Train crewmen discovered the fire aboard one of its three diesel units soon after it left Salamanca. They used a radio hook-up to call the firemen and as soon as the train rolled in, the volunteers used chemical solutions to douse the blaze.

Single by Robinson Means Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Oakland's Floyd Robinson still is ahead of Dooley Womack, but the New York Yankees' pitcher has shortened the distance by about 350 feet.

Robinson, who beat the Yanks a week ago with a 400-foot pinch hit homer off Womack in the ninth inning, nipped the slender reliever for an infield single with two out in the ninth Monday night.

Womack, however, retired the next batter, preserving a 2-1 New York victory that ran the Athletics' losing streak to four games.

California's Jack Hamilton pitched a three-hitter and drove in the deciding run with a fourth-inning single, leading the Angels past Washington 4-2 in another American League night game. Baltimore nipped Minnesota 2-1 on Andy Etchebarren's 10th-inning homer Monday afternoon in the only other game on the AL schedule.

In the National League, Los Angeles trimmed Pittsburgh 5-3 and Philadelphia shaded San Francisco 2-1 in 10 innings.

Womack, whose home run pitch to Robinson last Tuesday at New York cost Yankee southpaw Fritz Peterson a victory, rescued Peterson in the eighth inning at Oakland, striking out Sal Bando to escape from a bases-loaded jam.

He stopped the A's in the ninth—with the exception of Robinson's second hit of the season—to protect Peterson's first triumph. The New York starter yielded six hits and struck out nine.

The Yankees managed only four hits against loser Lew Krausse, who fanned seven before going out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Singles by Horace Clarke and Mike Ferraro, followed by Tom Tresh's sacrifice fly, sent the winning run across in the sixth.

Hamilton spotted the Senators two runs in the second inning, then held them hitless the rest of the way to win his first 1968 decision. The husky right-hander snapped a 2-2 tie in the fourth with a run-scoring single off loser Dick Bosman.

Roger Repoz scored three runs, one of them on his third homer, as the Angels ended Washington's winning string at four games.

Etchebarren drove his first homer of the year into the left field pavilion at Minnesota with one out in the 10th, sending the Orioles past the Twins. Jim Merritt, who had given up a first-inning homer by Paul Blair, was the victim of Etchebarren's winning blast.

Dave McNally, who allowed just four hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the 10th, picked up his second victory without a loss. John O'Donoghue finished up, retiring the Twins in order in the bottom of the 10th.

Dodgers in Win Over the Pirates

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Zollo Versalles, turned hunter again, used a Bull to bag a Moose, and came home with the limit for the second straight day.

The Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop capped a three-run ninth-inning rally with a two-run triple off reliever Bob Moose that shot down Pittsburgh 5-3 Monday night.

"I used the Bull—that's Al Ferrara's bat," said Versalles, describing his weapon.

"This way we keep him in the line-up," he added, referring to the absence of Ferrara, who is out with a broken ankle.

Versalles, far off the mark in 1967 after leading Minnesota to the American League pennant in 1966 by shooting down pitcher after pitcher, appears back on target now after last winter's trade to the Dodgers.

He is only hitting .154, but the big hits are returning. He drove in four runs, including a game-winning two-run double in the ninth inning Sunday and now has 11 runs batted in, close to the National League lead.

Cookie Rojas was the top marksman in the only other NL game as he set up one run with a hit and then singled home the winning run with one out in the 10th inning to give Philadelphia a 2-1 victory over San Francisco.

In the only AL games, Baltimore nudged Minnesota 2-1 in 10 innings in the afternoon and the New York Yankees tripped Oakland 2-1 and California defeated Washington 4-2 at night.

Versalles took aim at a Moose last ball after singles by Tom Haller and Len Gabrielson and a tying double by Wes Parker. Using Ferrara's 32-ounce bat, which is two or three ounces lighter than his own, Versalles smacked a drive over center fielder Matty Alou's head.

The Pirates, aided when Willie Davis dropped a fly ball, scored twice in the sixth inning for a 3-2 lead against Jim Grant, who came to the Dodgers with Versalles. Moose protected the lead with 2 1-3 shutout innings until the ninth.

Grant, winner Jim Brewer who struck out five of the six hitters he faced, and Jack Billingham stopped Pittsburgh on three hits as the Dodgers won their third straight.

Rojas connected against reliever Frank Linzy as the Phillies won their fifth straight. Richie Allen, who didn't start because cold weather bothers his injured hand, walked as a pinch hitter, stole second and reached third on Tony Taylor's hit before Rojas zeroed in.

With two out in the third, Rojas singled off Caylord Perry and scampered home on safeties by Johnny Callison and Tony Gonzales.

Track Team Test Coming at Magnolia

By RALPH ROUNTON

After a time—flying regular meet schedule, the Hope High track team must be at its best in the 4-AA championship competition this week in Magnolia.

Tonight the preliminaries will be held at Magnolia's spanking-new track. Defending champ Crosssett returns as a strong favorite, with Magnolia likely to be a strong opponent in the team scoring.

Even though few records are likely to be reestablished, almost every event should bring this year's best performances with the large gathering of top athletes. The finals will begin late Saturday afternoon, against Magnolia, and the top four finishers in each event will qualify for the State AA meet.

The HHS squad, coached by Ronnie Higgins, should improve from last year's fifth-place finish. Buzz Andrews should have no problems in defending his hurdles titles, both the 120 highs and the 180 lows. Also, the Bobcats have Jerry Hartsfield, who will be a strong competitor for the state meet positions.

James Rowe, who as a junior this year has lowered the school record by 15 seconds in the mile, will be in a strong field in which he could better his present mark of 4:42.1. Rowe also will run the half-mile, an event in which he is untested.

John Spraggins and Alan Phillips will compete in the 440 dash, and they also will be vital in the three relays.

Also on Saturday will be the 4-AA tennis and golf championships. Magnolia, with state champ Todd Landes, should take the tennis title with ease. Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. the golfers tee off at Magnolia Country Club for an 18-hole test in individual and team medal play.

Camden and Magnolia will be the golf favorites, with Hope, Malvern, and Warren very close. The individual favorites are Tommy Green of Camden and Magnolia's Sid Moore. From Hope, Ralph Rounton will play in the first position, with the other participant undetermined at this time.

South Africa About Out of Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — South Africa is out of the Mexico City Olympic Games, the International Olympic Committee said today.

The IOC said it has received the necessary minimum of 36 votes approving its recommendation to withdraw South Africa's invitation.

An IOC spokesman said at least 38 of the IOC's 71 members have thus far voted in favor of barring South Africa, thus ensuring the necessary simple majority.

The vote was based on an appeal made by an emergency session of the IOC's executive board Sunday urging all IOC members to agree to the withdrawal of an invitation to South Africa.

This reversed the postal vote taken in Grenoble, France, during the Winter Olympics which re-admitted South Africa to the Olympic Games with a majority of three.

More than 40 nations, including the Soviet Union, had threatened to stay away from the Summer Olympics if South Africa were allowed to participate. The South Africans had said they would field a mixed team.

Meanwhile, Jean Claude Ganga, secretary general of the 33-nation African Sports Council, called the new IOC poll "a victory for wisdom and good sense."

He said he was optimistic that African nations would be represented in Mexico City.

However, the South African member of the IOC, Reg Honey, called on the nine-member Executive Committee to resign.

Brundage, admittedly distressed over the controversy which brought politics onto the Olympic scene, told The Associated Press he has not made up his mind whether to accept a new term as IOC president if such an offer is made in Mexico City.

Ruling Will Help U.S. Olympic Team

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Payton Jordan, head track coach of the U.S. Olympic team, says the recommendation of the International Olympic Committee executive board to exclude South Africa "will obviously help our team."

The Stanford head man made the statement to Northern California track and field writers shortly after two top Negro track stars said they had second thoughts about an Olympic Games boycott in the light of the IOC decision.

"This is one of the things we were after," world record-holding sprinter Tommie Smith said Monday. "The chances of my going to Mexico City would have been much less had South Africa been allowed to participate."

Lee Evans, who has run the 440 in 44.9, said, "This certainly changes my mind some about participation."

Scores of the nation's leading Negro athletes and more than 40 nations had threatened to boycott the Olympics in objection to inclusion of racially divided South Africa.

A poll of the 71-member IOC is now being taken, but observers say it's almost certain that the invitation to South Africa will be withdrawn.

The fourth and fifth games also will be played in St. Louis because the North Stars rented out Met Sports Center here to the Ice Follies the rest of this week.

Minnesota has a 1-1-4 record this season at St. Louis, including Sunday's 1-3 loss to the Blues in the series opener.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On a recent spring morning near the corner of Madison Avenue and the 54th Street, passersby were startled to see a small red-haired girl with a Peter Pan haircut suddenly crying out: "And now, folks, it's sock it to me time..."

"People come up in the street, even in restaurants," said Judy Carne, looking pleased. "They call me by name and ask me to say it once just for them. And, like an idiot, I do it."

There is considerable irony in the emergence of Judy Carne, late of Northampton, England, as television's "Sock it to me" girl. Before NBC's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" caught on, Miss Carne had spent several busy years in Hollywood with fat roles in three series. None lasted more than one season and nothing much happened to her career.

She had auditioned for and won the part of the English girl living with an American family in "Fair Exchange." This took her to Hollywood and introduced her to the American TV audience. This folded, and she moved on—briefly—to "Balleys of Balboa." Last season she co-starred in "Love on a Rooftop," but this "soon" faded.

"I had worked with one of the "laugh-in" writers in England, and I'd done singing and dancing," she said. "So I auditioned and was picked. Simple as that."

"Sock it to me" is, of course, one of those catch phrases that the public suddenly picks up, gives it a whirl and just as suddenly discards. Even as the show's season ended—it is now in reruns—the writers were trying out a couple of potential successors. "Here Comes the Judge" and "Let It All Hang Out," whatever they mean.

"The Beat of the Brass," Herb Alpert's second television special on Monday night was an hour almost totally filled with the distinctive, attractive music of his Tijuana Brass. The show had trouble making the visual part of the show as interesting as the music.

The CBS show, while tuneless enough, lacked the sparkle and ingenuity that made the special last season such a treat.

TAKES LOTS OF TIES
BROOKVILLE, Kan. (AP)—Did you ever wonder how many railroad ties are necessary for a mile of track?

Union Pacific has begun unloading some of the 44,000 ties it says in "Fair Exchange." This took her to Hollywood and introduced her to the American TV audience. This folded, and she moved on—briefly—to "Balleys of Balboa." Last season she co-starred in "Love on a Rooftop," but this "soon" faded.

Sidewalk superintendents hereabouts say that comes out to 733 and one-third ties per mile and they want to watch the guy who splits those rails into thirds.

DEAN CAN'T SI MEXICAN PHOTOGRAPHERS

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—(NEA)—The Latin temperament of Dean Martin crashed head-on with the Latin temperament of Mexico's press—and we almost had another war.

Dean is down here filming "Five Card Stud," Hal Wallis' big western with Robert Mitchum, Inger Stevens, Roddy McDowall and Katherine Justice. And good old Dino, bless his foot-in-mouth acrobatics, stirred up a hot tamale of a fight.

He was just sitting there in the sun, out at the Churubusco studio, between takes. Nobody told him that the Mexico City photographers have free run of the studio and feel they can shoot pictures of anything of interest. Dean Martin is interesting.

They began clicking away. You have to understand that, in Mexico City, there are nine daily newspapers and 150 magazines and they all have staff and free-lance photographers. They make Rome's paparazzi seem like tsetse flies. They surrounded Dean before you can say Juan Robinson and popped away from all angles.

Well, old Dean didn't like it. And he let them know he didn't like it. He had them shoof away and there were guards posted so you couldn't see Dean with a telephoto lens.

The press wrote it up in loud Latin language. So Hal Wallis figured a party—when in doubt throw a party, that's the Hollywood tradition—would smooth things over. The Mexican press said they would boycott the party.

Eventually, the lure of free drinks and hors d'oeuvres was bigger than pride, and a few hundred showed up atop the Bamer Hotel. It was a success, even though Bob Mitchum grew angry at the flashbulbs in his face and walked out) because Dean and Jeannie Martin stayed and stayed and posed and posed.

All is forgiven. Maybe. Mexico City is like that. The company is finding that there are advantages and disadvantages to working here.

Director Henry Hathaway—who has shot down here before, once as far back as a Pola Negri picture—thinks the Mexican crews are great. They move fast and he can average 15 to 20 set-ups a day, against the eight to 12 he gets in Hollywood.

But he has been known to get angry at their tendency to chat. Once he had his Mexican assistant call for quiet—"Silencio, por favor" (quiet, please)—and he was so angry

Buick Bargain Days are here.

Now. At your Buick-Opel dealer's.

You say people are afraid to get involved?

...not everyone.

Many telephone people have made it their business to get involved in other people's problems. They've saved hundreds of lives in the process, often risking their own safety.

Over the years, 240 Southwestern Bell employees have been awarded the Vail Medal, an award recognizing acts which exemplify the company's highest traditions of service.

Among our Vail Medal winners are employees who... pulled a mother and her son from the rushing waters of a turbulent river... carried a baby from a blazing trailer home... dragged a man and woman from a burning car.

The list goes on and on. And we're proud of them all. They're the kind of people you can count on to get involved.

New Idea in Electric Ranges Offers Many Advantages

It's becoming harder and harder to spot the kitchen, even when you're in it, in modern homes equipped with all electric appliances.

Today's flameless appliances not only do more — take the self-cleaning oven for example — but they also come in exciting colors. (Would you believe "black" and "avocado"?) Well, they're available. Others come with decorative panels that can be changed as you change your color scheme or have such a beautiful built-in look that they add to the over-all design of your kitchen, according to the Live Better Electrically Program.

Among the new kitchen design changes is a flameless electric range top whose only visible surface is a smooth, flat sheet of glossy white glass ceramic material with four cooking areas that heat individually to the temperature you select. The unit mounts flush with the kitchen counter and most spills can be wiped up with a damp cloth. A stainless steel rim seals the top, eliminating crevices where dirt or grease might collect. The unit, available in models with four heating elements or two heating elements, is self-contained and is installed much the same as any conventional drop-in electric range top. The four-element unit measures 32½ by 21½ by 3½ inches while the two-element model is only 19½ by 21½ by 3½ inches. It is ideal for installation in small areas, in matched pairs flanking existing kitchen equipment, or in various other arrangements. For example, the smaller unit is suitable for installation with either the long or the short side parallel to the edge of the kitchen counter. Both units operate on 220-volt electricity.

Each of four flameless electric cooking areas is marked by a sunburst design outlining a confined heat area which leaves the remainder of the cook top cool when only one area is in use. Because each flameless heater has its own thermostat, the exact temperature setting that you select is maintained. What's more, each dial provides an infinite choice of temperature settings, between 150 and 475 degrees. This precise cooking control often eliminates the need for a double boiler. Whenever a heat-dial is turned on, the sunburst turns yellow and an indicator light up, is self-contained.

Dishwasher Helps With Housekeeping

What can a dishwasher do for you?

For one thing, it can give you sparkling glassware, dishes and pots and pans that are cleaner and more sanitary than you could ever get them by hand. That's because the dishwasher uses hotter water and stronger detergent than you can use in an old-fashioned dishpan.

As a bonus, a dishwasher also can give you nicer looking hands and fewer broken fingernails, since you don't have them in sudsy dishwater three times a day. Best of all, it will give you more time to spend with your family — time you would otherwise spend bending over a hot dishpan.

Those ought to be reasons enough for any woman. But if you're a homemaker concerned about the hot water supply, you may find you use less hot water with a dishwasher than when washing dishes manually.

A dishwasher can also help you with your housecleaning if, like many homemakers, you collect decorative glassware, fancy cups and saucers, china animals, etc.

Self-Cleaning Electric Ovens Saves Time, Money and Effort

The self-cleaning ovens found in many models of flameless electric ranges make both dollars and sense to the homemaker, according to the Live Better Electrically Program. For they eliminate one of the most tedious jobs in the home and do it economically at the same time.

Studies show that the average cost to clean a conventional oven with the old, down-on-your-knees, hand-scrubbing method is about 35 cents per cleaning. (There's no charge for the elbow grease you use.)

A self-cleaning, electric oven can be cleaned for an average cost of only 7 cents and there's no elbow grease needed. All you have to do is set the dials and latch the door and baked-on food and grease simply vanish.

If you clean your oven 20 times a year and keep the range for 15 years, oven cleaning with electricity could save you as much as $84 over the old-fashioned, hand method.

And thanks to clean, flameless electricity, cleaning of the rest of the range is a snap, too. Cooking elements automatically cleanse themselves of spilled food and the drip pans under them can be placed in the self-cleaning oven for cleaning.

Portability Is Advantageous In Today's Home

Have you put off buying a dishwasher because you didn't want to remodel your kitchen? Well, wait no longer. Get a portable model. It can hold just as many dishes and do just as good a dishwashing job as a built-in model. And you may decide its portability is so handy you wouldn't want any other kind.

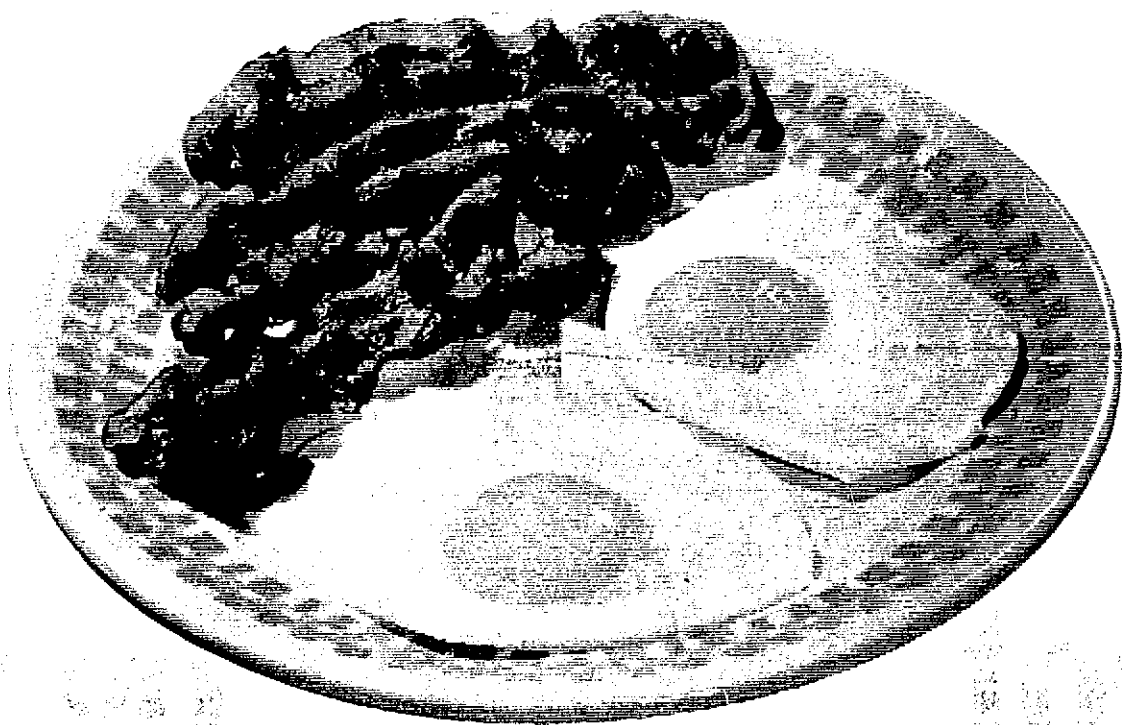

A portable dishwasher takes up so little space it can be stored just about any place you wish to keep it.

That means this dishwasher can be stored in a corner, at the end of a counter for additional work space or, if desired, under a counter. And because the back looks as good as the other three sides, it can be used as part of a room divider. With the choice of colors available—avocado, copper or white—you are bound to find one that will blend in with the decor of your kitchen.

WOMEN WHO KNOW COOK ELECTRICALLY!

For Hot weather cooking nothing provides the luxury of an electric range. Most all heat produced goes into the cooking— not out into the kitchen.

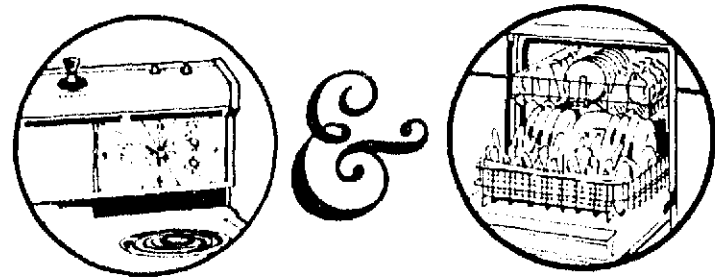

Electric cooking is clean — no muss, no fuss, no fumes to dirty pots and pans, Kitchen walls and curtains. The electric range user can be proud of her kitchen and her utensils without a lot of scrubbing and cleaning.

Bacon and eggs . . . cheese souffle . . . sirloin steak — whatever you cook you cook it better and tastier on a clean, cool Electric Range — the one with the oven that cleans itself, saves your time and temper!

Then, when the joy of good eating is over, you know clean-up is just as easy when a modern Electric Dishwasher is in the kitchen — the one that really sanitizes dishes and utensils in water much hotter than your hands could stand!

That's why we say "They go together"—and thousands of Arkansas homemakers will agree. See your dealer this month for his "Go-Together" specials.

LIKE $25 AND $15!!

Ask your Reddy Plan dealer how to qualify for AP&L's $25 wiring allowance on electric ranges and $15 wiring allowance on dishwashers — either portable or built-in. Remember — you may buy both on the Reddy Plan.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Quieting the Neighbor's Dog
One man's dog may be another man's nuisance. If you are disturbed by your neighbor's dog (or dogs), and if complaints don't help, you might consider another possibility: a court order to abate the nuisance. What does the law say in such cases?
By and large, it is sympathetic to the person who is subjected to an excessive amount of canine clamor. "Dogs in a neighbor's yard may murder sleep," observed one judge, "and destroy the reasonable enjoyment of a home."
Thus, a suburban family won an injunction against the owner of a German shepherd dog whose furious barking awakened them regularly at 4 o'clock in the morning. The court said the defendant would have to either reduce the noise or get rid of the dog.
Suppose you go to court only after having tolerated the noise for some time. Your neighbor might then argue that you have "accepted" the situation by your acquiescence.
But chances are that the court would not penalize you for being patient. Your complaint wouldn't be turned down merely because you held back for a reasonable time, in the hope of finding some solution short of the courthouse.
What if the neighbor was already living there—with his dog—before you moved in? That, too, is not enough grounds to bar your complaint. His being there first does not give him a permanent right-to-be-noisy, regardless of the feelings of newcomers to the street.
On the other hand, you won't get far in court with a complaint that reflects your own unusual sensitivity rather than the dog's unusual behavior. The law of nuisance is a law of moderation—tailored to people of average dispositions, not to those with jumpy nerves or trigger tempers.
In one case a disgruntled home owner, in court about a neighbor's dogs, was countered by several witnesses for the defense. Although these witnesses lived as close to the dogs as he did, not one of them found the barking the least bit annoying.
The court thereupon refused to mix in. The judge ruled that, whatever one particular individual might think, barking—in moderation—is a lawful ingredient of neighborhood life.

The student watched with awe as the professor proceeded to make four spades. It wasn't that the student didn't think that the hand couldn't have been made, but rather that the professor rattled it off without any apparent thought. To start, the professor discarded a heart from dummy on the third club lead. East also let a heart go. West's next play was a fourth club. A diamond was discarded from dummy and the professor overuffed East's 10 of trumps with the king. The professor played the ace of trumps and noted a second heart discard by East. The next play was a trump to dummy's nine and East discarded a third heart. The student expected to see the professor cash dummy's queen of trumps, but he shifted to the ace of diamonds. Then he ruffed a diamond and led a trump to dummy's queen. This picked up West's jack and left East with nothing but troubles. He couldn't afford to throw another heart away, but a diamond discard represented just as much luxury. Actually East did chuck the diamond, whereupon the professor ruffed another diamond with his last trump and made the last three tricks with the ace and king of hearts and dummy's last diamond which had become a winner. "Didn't you have any problems at all?" asked the student. "Not really," replied the professor. "It was just a matter of counting. East showed exactly three black cards. When his first three discards were hearts, it was obvious

The student watched with awe as the professor proceeded to make four spades. It wasn't that the student didn't think that the hand couldn't have been made, but rather that the professor rattled it off without any apparent thought. To start, the professor discarded a heart from dummy on the third club lead. East also let a heart go. West's next play was a fourth club. A diamond was discarded from dummy and the professor overuffed East's 10 of trumps with the king. The professor played the ace of trumps and noted a second heart discard by East. The next play was a trump to dummy's nine and East discarded a third heart. The student expected to see the professor cash dummy's queen of trumps, but he shifted to the ace of diamonds. Then he ruffed a diamond and led a trump to dummy's queen. This picked up West's jack and left East with nothing but troubles. He couldn't afford to throw another heart away, but a diamond discard represented just as much luxury. Actually East did chuck the diamond, whereupon the professor ruffed another diamond with his last trump and made the last three tricks with the ace and king of hearts and dummy's last diamond which had become a winner. "Didn't you have any problems at all?" asked the student. "Not really," replied the professor. "It was just a matter of counting. East showed exactly three black cards. that he had started with either six or seven hearts. If he had started with seven I couldn't make the hand. Therefore I played him for six only. I had to start diamonds while I still had one trump entry to dummy in order to get three diamond leads and exhaust West's diamonds."

Bennett Plans to Run for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett announced today he would make another race for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Bennett, who ran unsuccessfully for the nomination in 1960, said he faced a "battle uphill all the way" but that he believed he could win in the primary and in the November general election.

He joins Little Rock insurance man Frank Whitbeck and State Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman in the Democratic race.

Bennett said that during a "personal poll" he conducted throughout the state a few weeks ago he found "apprehension in the hearts of all men for the safety of their families and the protection of their property and business."

"I found confusion compounded in our fiscal affairs; cutbacks in welfare checks; dissipation of the state cushion fund; fear that the teachers will not get their promised salary raise; threatened proposed tax increases," Bennett said.

"I found disgust with the on-again, off-again decision of boards and commissions."

"In short, I found the people of Arkansas disappointed and disenchanted with the present administration, and that it is an expensive luxury which the state of Arkansas can no longer afford."

Bennett has served four terms as attorney general. He was elected to terms in 1956, 1958, 1962 and 1964. He sought re-election in 1966, but lost in the primary won by Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell.

The El Dorado lawyer said the primary aim of his administration would be to create jobs "in a peaceful climate."

He said he didn't expect to "preside over the liquidation of our American principles of freedom."

"I believe in peaceful assembly, will fight to protect it, and protection for those sincerely exercising this privilege," he said.

"But, by the same token, those I might assign to furnish this protection will be directed to suppress violations of the law committed by any citizen. In short, Arkansas will not be a haven for rioters, looters or arsonists."

"Arkansas is, and must continue to be, a safe place for our families, our businesses, school, property and public buildings."

He said he would wage "the most extensive person-to-person campaign possible."

Doesn't Plan to Campaign for Wallace

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gene Williams of Little Rock, a member of the Democratic State Committee, said Monday that he does not plan to resign from the committee to work in the presidential campaign of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

There is a movement to oust Williams and other supporters of Wallace from the committee. Williams said he had written the party rules and that there was nothing in the rules to prohibit him from working for a third party candidate.

Wallace is attempting to get on the Arkansas ballot in November on the American Party of Arkansas ticket.

Williams served as temporary chairman of the third party's convention Saturday and was present Monday when the party filed its organizational papers with Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

Turbulent Weather Relaxes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The weather relaxed its turbulent grip on Arkansas today after clashing air masses produced funnel clouds and severe thunderstorms in the state Monday.

Cooler, drier air moved into the state today and cool temperatures are predicted through Wednesday.

Several funnel clouds were sighted in the Fort Smith area Monday and in Polk and Sevier counties. Others were reported near Humoke (Lonoke County) and at Barling near Fort Smith.

None of the tornadoes touched down and no damage was reported.

Golf-ball-size hail was reported north of Russellville Monday night.

Siloam Springs reported a total of 3.24 inches of rain and the thunderstorms caused some minor flood damage at Mona. Wind damage was reported at Almyra (Arkansas County), where trees were uprooted.

High temperatures Monday ranged from 82 at Texarkana to 66 at Little Rock. Overnight lows ranged from 64 at Memphis to 44 at Fayetteville.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .32 inches at Fayetteville, .19 at Harrison, .42 at Walnut Ridge, 1.30 at Pine Bluff, 1.53 at Blytheville, .29 at Texarkana, .09 at El Dorado, .67 at Memphis, 1.12 at Little Rock and .42 at Fort Smith.

The normal range of a human voice is 150 yards on a still day.

Shrub Barriers to Shield Lights on Interstate Roads

Some months ago the Fulton-Texarkana stretch on Interstate 30 was opened to traffic and in reporting the event I wrote this criticism:

The pairs of lanes of the divided highway are fairly close most of the way and carry the same handicap of single-road traffic—fighting the headlight glare of oncoming cars in night driving.

I suggested the obvious solution would be to plant trees or tall shrubs as a light screen between Interstate 30's two roadways; and this past week-end we read that such plans are under way.

J. B. (Ben) Hogan, who heads the beautification section of the State Highway Department, announced Sunday that a shrub-planting program is under way on Interstate 55 which runs from the Missouri line southward through Blytheville. He added that this is expensive business—but worth the cost as an accident preventive. Last year $20,000 was spent on shrubs for Interstate 55 from the Missouri line to Blytheville, and a new $147,000 program will continue the work from Blytheville south to West Memphis.

The same program will be applied to Interstate 30 next fall, from Texarkana to Fulton, if expected funds come through, Mr. Hogan said in last Sunday's newspaper.

What kind of shrubs will you see along the Interstate system? Bryan Davis, highway landscape architect at Little Rock, has the answers. As you might have guessed, privet hedge is a favorite glare-stopper—highway officials preferring the Amur River variety. But other hedges also are used, among them being Photina evergreen and Canaertii juniper—varieties which grow fast and big.

But there will be some experimenting on the Texarkana-Fulton stretch of Interstate 30. Here the highway planners will also try bamboo, and honeysuckle strung on wire fencing.

Honeysuckle—now there's one I hadn't thought of, although it ought to be a lulu considering what a pest it is to local hedge-growers. You may do your own lawn-mowing, as the editor does, but when it comes to cleaning honeysuckle out of a hedgerow you have to go for help.

But Little Rock should be warned: If it gives honeysuckle an inch it will take a bulldozer to keep many a mile of paved highway from being taken over by the village varmint.

Solution in Phone Strike Dim

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes appeared dim for renewed negotiations anytime soon in the nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers as union attorneys sought to upset an Alabama court injunction against the walkout.

"There's nothing to report" on the prospect for new wage talks, a spokesman for the striking AFL-CIO Communications Workers said Monday.

There has been no formal bargaining since the strike began six days ago in some 40 states. Company spokesmen said telephone service—mostly automated—remained largely unaffected by the strike.

The Alabama injunction applied only to the approximately 8,000 strikers in that state but CWA President Joseph A. Beirne said the state court order blocked any early possibility of settling the nationwide walkout.

The Alabama strikers continued to ignore the injunction, issued Saturday by Circuit Judge James A. Hare of Dallas County, while union lawyers sought to have the case transferred to federal court in Mobile.

The case was placed on the docket of U.S. District Court there.

A similar union legal strategy succeeded Monday in Kentucky, where Federal Judge James Gordon voided a state injunction and said Southern Bell Telephone Co. would have to seek some other remedy such as a suit for damages if it felt it had any valid complaint against the union.

Southern Bell, which obtained both the Alabama and Kentucky state court orders, contended its employees were illegally refusing to cross the picket lines of telephone installers.

The strike Communications Workers include 23,000 telephone installers employed around the country by Western Electric Co., a Bell subsidiary, and about 140,000 Bell Telephone System workers in 15 states where their contracts have expired.

Hungry Areas in Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 100-page report, released Monday, classifies four Arkansas counties as "hunger counties."

The report, drawn up by a special committee of private citizens, says that there is concrete evidence of chronic hunger and dangerous malnutrition in the United States but particularly in the South and Southwest.

The report listed 256 "hunger counties" including Crittenden, Lee, Mississippi and Stone in Arkansas. The report said Georgia had 47 such counties and Mississippi 36.

A Redoubtable Dame — Living Is My Hobby, Says the Lady at 80

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Her four score years rest lightly on the blithe spirit of Dame Edith Evans, perhaps the most honored of living English actresses.

"Living is my hobby," she said, "I'm 80—so they tell me, I hope you find it difficult to believe, I've had nothing to do with it."

She wore a vivid spring-bright frock. Not for her the accoutrements of a grande dame—the tower of silver hair, the lace handkerchief, the silver-nobbed cane. Her hazel eyes sparkle, her short gray curls shake defiantly at times.

"I work steadily and hard and am not conscious of age," she remarked, "I have no particular goals now, except to go on doing creative work. That is always exciting."

"I have no retirement plan. I'll continue to work as long as people want me and I enjoy it."

Dame Edith—winner of the British Empire in 1946—won six "best actress" awards for her latest film, "The Whisperers,"

Figures Draft Call by 1968 Could Exceed Present by 100,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft chief Lewis B. Hershey has told Congress he estimates the 1969 draft call could exceed by as much as 100,000 men the 240,000 the Pentagon is asking.

And at the least, the Selective Service Director indicated, the draft call—should the Vietnam war continue—will probably be closer to 297,000 than to 240,000 next year.

In testimony given to a House Appropriations subcommittee Feb. 23 and released Monday, Hershey noted that for this year the Pentagon originally asked for induction of 285,000 men.

The number actually to be taken this year now stands at 345,000 and, "Therefore, when I get 240,000 in my figures, it will take another 100,000," said Hershey, adding:

"If the war gets over, everything is gone. But if the war doesn't get over, I have to think of the worst, because the best I can always live with."

Hershey also related the 240,000 Pentagon figure to the 297,000 actually inducted in 1967.

He explained the 1967 figure was more pertinent to 1969 needs than were figures for 1968 since men are inducted for two-year terms.

The Defense Department meanwhile called Monday for drafting of 29,500 men in June and at the same time boosted its May manpower summons 1,900 to a total 45,900—with the additional men designated for the Marine Corps.

The men inducted in June are all to go to the Army.

The June call, second lowest of the year, reflects the normal summer draft dip caused by increased enlistments—most just-graduated high school students.

The fence and the gates are an attempt to control the dumping and maintain the grounds in better condition.

The machine operator at the dump ground will be there 6 days a week to assist people who bring loads of refuse into the area. The City has been burying trash for businesses and localities all over this part of the county without any charge. This has grown to be so expensive that the City Directors have asked the sanitation department to work up a series of rates to be charged to out of town users of the dump ground.

Persons from outside the City will have to secure a permit to use the dumping ground, but the grounds are available to any resident of the City for disposing trash and rubbish of all kinds. They will be asked, however, to make their trips to the dumping ground during the hours when an attendant is there, which will be from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The gates will be locked after these hours.

Survey for Nixon Is Challenged

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits challenges the results of a national opinion poll indicating Richard M. Nixon could defeat any of the three leading potential Democratic presidential nominees.

Javits said in an interview that this sampling of potential voters will not affect efforts being made to get his fellow New Yorker, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, actively into the race to oppose Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon's aides were so elated by the Gallup Poll results that they called the survey to the attention of newsmen.

"I think the poll which shows Nixon could defeat the Democrats represents a fragmentation of the Democratic strength among three candidates," Javits said. "It does little to demonstrate that he could beat a single Democratic nominee who had his party united behind him."

"Of course it's better from Nixon's standpoint that the poll showed him a winner rather than a loser. But in terms of general election, I don't think it means anything," said Javits.

Nixon, who has been fighting to shed the "can't win" tag pinned on him after the 1960 presidential and 1962 California gubernatorial elections, got a political lift out of the poll which matched him individually with Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Robert F. Kennedy announced Democratic candidates, and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who is expected to announce Saturday.

In the Republican camp, Nixon reported at Cheyenne, Wyo., Monday that he is picking up considerable second-round strength in states with favorite-son candidates.

Enemy Has Destroyed $132 Million in U.S. Aircraft on Ground

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler says the enemy has destroyed or damaged $132.5 million in U.S. aircraft on the ground in Vietnam—a toll he contends could have been drastically cut by use of shelters.

Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told inquiring senators that special protective shelters now proposed for European-based U.S. planes could have held these planes and helicopter losses in Vietnam to about $7 million.

The Pentagon has decided against providing anything more than side-walled barricades, with no roofs, for aircraft in Vietnam because the enemy doesn't operate bombers over the South.

Wheeler said the total cost of aircraft wiped out by hostile ground fire between Jan. 1, 1964 and Feb. 9, 1968 amounted to $94,033,000.

This included 122 planes and helicopters destroyed by enemy mortar, recoilless rifles, satchel charges or small-arms fire, Wheeler said.

In addition, 590 other planes and helicopters were damaged in 1966 and 1967, requiring $38.5 million in repairs, he said.

Wheeler also disclosed that during the major thrust of the Viet Cong's Tet holiday offensive last Jan. 29-Feb. 1, U.S. air units suffered heavily.

In an estimate drawn up during the first week of February, he figured the enemy destroyed 38 aircraft, including 15 planes and 23 helicopters, dealt major damage to 154 others—32 planes and 122 choppers—and caused minor damage to 198 craft—53 planes and 145 helicopters.

The Pentagon is seeking congressional approval this year to spend about $17.3 million on building 60 steel-and-concrete aircraft shelters at NATO facilities in Europe.

Another Expensive Plane Lost

SAIGON (AP) — Another U.S. Air Force F111 fighter-bomber crashed Monday night while on its way to or from a bombing mission against North Vietnam, but the U.S. Command said it was believed down somewhere in Thailand.

The command said it had no other information on the plane or its two crewmen.

It was the third of America's most advanced warplanes to crash in the Vietnam theater since six of the $6 million, swing-wing aircraft arrived at an air base in Thailand March 17.

The second of the previous crashes was in northern Thailand on March 28; the crew was rescued and the wreckage recovered. That crash was attributed to a capsule of sealing material getting lodged in the flight controls.

The first plane that crashed, on March 25, is believed to have gone down in a remote section of Thailand also.

Following the first two crashes, the other four F111s were grounded until two replacements were flown from Nevada. The squadron resumed combat missions against North Vietnam April 12 and have been bombing every night since then.

A U.S. spokesman said the F111s flew four missions against North Vietnam's panhandle Monday night, but he would not say how many planes were on each mission.

In the ground war, South Vietnamese infantry reported 115 Viet Cong killed in a battle 20 miles south of Saigon Monday, but there was no sign of the major enemy attack on the capital feared by the South Vietnamese.

The South Vietnamese said troops of their 7th Infantry Division fought for an hour with a Viet Cong unit of unknown size in the Mekong Delta. Seven South Vietnamese were reported killed and 47 wounded.

Enemy gunners also shelled installations more than 40 miles south and east of Saigon today, but close to the city there was no evidence of activity that might signal the big offensive anticipated by the South Vietnamese command.

Government forces in the capital and in neighboring provinces were put on full alert Monday after a North Vietnamese defector said the Communist command planned an enemy attack with all the punch of the Tet offensive in February.

Elsewhere in the war: Three American paratroopers were killed and 22 were wounded Monday night when four 105mm howitzer rounds fired by a U.S. artillery unit fell short, U.S. headquarters said. The artillery was firing in support of a paratroop unit near Phu Binh, 24 miles northeast of Saigon.

Officer Is Fighting the Bureaucrats

By JAY SHARBUTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A retired Army colonel, incensed over the placing of portable latrines near graves at Arlington National Cemetery, is warring to remove them from public view.

But as of Monday, the private war of Col. Zebulon L. Strickland Jr. against the chemical latrines had been for naught. "I'm just going around in a bureaucratic swirl," he growled. The 53-year-old former artillery officer from Montgomery, Ala., said the battle began April 9 when he noticed one of the offending latrines about 10 paces from a grave.

He said he complained about it to cemetery officials and it was removed after more than a week — only to turn up later near another grave in the 420-acre cemetery.

Strickland said he didn't know for whose use the chemical latrines were intended, although he thought they might be used by workers who tend the final resting place of the nation's military dead.

No cemetery administrator was available for comment late Monday.

"They don't seem to realize that a temporary desecration of a grave is just as bad as a permanent desecration," Strickland said, leading newsmen on a brief tour of the cemetery grounds.

He pointed out a grey chemical latrine seven paces from the grave of an Army Air Corps sergeant killed in 1944 and another, painted in white enamel and bearing the company name of "Don's Johns."

The second was 16 paces from the grave of an Ohio private who served in World War I and was buried in Arlington in 1965. "Disgraceful," snapped the colonel.

The colonel, who began 30 years of Army service as a private in the Alabama National Guard, said his head-on approach has failed and he will change his tactics.

Strickland, who now lives in nearby McClean, Va., warned: "My frontal assault has failed, but I don't like to fail a mission."

Election of Trumbo Attacked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Frank Miller, a student at State College of Arkansas who was defeated for the presidency of the Young Democrat Clubs by Don Trumbo of Fayetteville, said Monday that the Democratic party "lost the most" by Trumbo's election.

Miller charged that the election of Trumbo was preplanned. "I thought the influential leaders in the state played too big a part in it (the YDC convention)," Miller said. "They did it to get control of the Young Democrats, but they didn't do it."

Miller said Trumbo's election would benefit Frank Whitbeck, a Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., and the "Rockefeller group."

"They didn't have anything against me personally," Miller said. "The only thing was they knew they couldn't control me."

Miller said Trumbo offered him a position Friday night "just a little lower than president" if he would pull out of the race. Miller also said that the roll call of the YDC clubs should have been in alphabetical order but wasn't.

"They called out the clubs that were for Trumbo first to get a landslide going for him, thinking I'd pull out," Miller said.

Miller also charged that the Rules Committee at the convention adopted a motion that proxies would not count.

"If they had counted, I would have won," Miller said. "The Rules Committee did that and I was on the rules committee and I never was invited to a meeting."

Trumbo garnered 163 6-7 votes and Miller 88½.

Stolen Bonds Recovered in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Secret Service said Monday that 45 stolen saving bonds had been recovered in Arkansas in connection with the arrest Thursday of three men and two women.

The five were arrested following a high-speed chase at Little Rock. They were identified as Richard Joseph Arza, 37, of Miami Beach, Fla.; Frank Carbonaro, 28, of New York; Samuel Joseph Catrone, 48, of Brooklyn, N.Y.; Doris Ann Rollins, 26, and Patricia Ann Harkey, 24, both of Memphis.

The Secret Service said the bonds recovered had a face value of $8,675 and were part of 193 bonds that were stolen Feb. 8 in a burglary at a home in Flushing, N.Y. Authorities said the stolen bonds had a face value of $37,800.

Harold W. Duke, special agent in charge of the Little Rock office of the Secret Service, said some of the stolen bonds had been passed in Florida and at Memphis. Duke said $1,600 worth of the bonds were recovered Thursday from a Hot Springs bank.

Lawrence Powell, vice president of the bank, testified Monday at a preliminary hearing that Arza signed the name John J. Harkens on the bonds but left while he was checking to see if the bonds had been stolen.

Duke said bonds totaling

$7,075 in face value were recovered from a parking lot at Little Rock. A witness said he saw someone throw a manila envelope from a white station wagon while the vehicle was traveling through the lot. The witness, Michael Ivy, said the envelope contained $7,075 in bonds.

The three men and two women were in a white station wagon during the chase Thursday.

U.S. Commissioner John E. Coates ordered the three men held in the Pulaski County Jail Monday under $50,000 bond each to await action in federal District Court.

The women were released from jail on $1,000 bond each to await District Court action. They waived a preliminary hearing.

All five are charged with possessing and conspiring to forge and pass stolen government bonds.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Communist delegations gathered in Budapest today to set the stage for a world congress in Moscow later this year aimed at promoting "anti-imperialist action unity."

The more independent Communist parties—those of Romania, Yugoslavia, North Vietnam, North Korea and Japan—were expected to stay away, but an East European source said they are keeping an open mind about participation in the Moscow

Forsees a Kennedy-Nixon Contest

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon foresees another great Nixon-Kennedy contest for the presidency next November, almost a repeat of the 1960 spectacular which he lost in the closest election in modern political history.

Nixon expects to win the Republican nomination for president and he thinks Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York will be his Democratic opponent.

The former vice president's analysis of the outlook for Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who has not yet announced his presidential candidacy, goes like this:

"You always think of Bobby Kennedy as being the organization man and Humphrey as the man with great appeal to the public. Now Humphrey, because he is part of the administration, is the organization man and he has to depend on the Democratic establishment. Kennedy on the other hand is playing to the people. My guess is that if Kennedy rolls up the majorities I think he will in the primaries, he will be nominated."

congress. The Chinese and Albanian parties are certain not to attend either meeting.

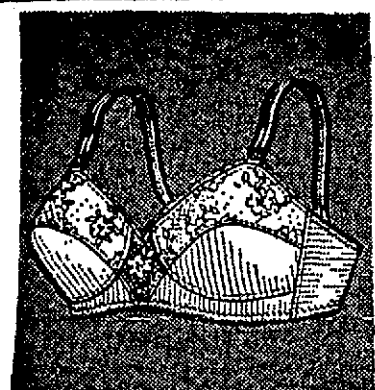

In sessions beginning Wednesday, the delegations will decide on the program, procedure and scope for the world conference.
